

FREE Honours Project Writing Tutorial Service for Senior Year Entrants

The Honours Project Writing tutorial service is available at the Language Centre for UGC-funded senior year entrants.

By joining this service, you will be able to:

- receive language advice on your honours project in terms of the organization of ideas, use of grammar and sentence structures, and referencing skills
- Identify areas for improvement and improve your honours project writing skills

Students who register for the service will be asked to bring along a maximum of three pages of their honours project during the first consultation session. With professional advice provided by language advisers, you will be able to improve your English in an effective way. Please note that this is NOT a proofreading service.

No. of Sessions:

Five one-hour consultation sessions per semester for each senior year entrant.

(This service will be provided face-to-face or via Zoom depending on students' preferred option.)

Enquiries: Rita Gill (Email: ritagill@hkbu.edu.hk)

Deadline: 6 October 2024

* Services are free and open only to UGC-funded undergraduate senior year entrant students as stipulated by the UGC.

 Students are paired with language advisors according to their available timeslots on a first-come, first-served basis, and are unable to select their preferred language advisor.
